ABOUT

I am Abdullah, a passionate Full Stack Web Developer with a BSCS degree and over 2+ years of professional experience in website development. I specialize in building modern, scalable, and user-friendly web applications with strong hands-on experience in Laravel and PHP. I have worked across both frontend and backend development, delivering clean code, responsive designs, and efficient APIs. My experience includes database design, RESTful services, authentication, and performance optimization. I enjoy solving problems, learning new technologies, and contributing to impactful projects while continuously improving my development skills.
